U.S. DEMANDS EQUAL RITES IN OIL FIELDS

Sharp Note Sent to Britain by Secretary Colby

WANT "OPEN DOOR"

Bone of Contention is Mesopotamia Oil Fields—Reply to British Note —American Supply Small.

In one of the most pointedly-worded notes ever addressed to friendly powers, the United States' government demands from Great Britain and France strict observance of the "open door" in the oilfields of Mesopotamia.

In addition to presenting that specific demand the United States insists upon its inalienable right to enjoy equality of opportunity in all mandated areas." Such territory, this country declares, came under league of nations jurisdiction in consequence of a war which American blood and treasure helped to win. Even though we do not belong to the league, our privileges resultant from the defeat of the central powers cannot be set aside.

The State Department goes still further. It boldly asks that the United States government shall be given the chance of considering "draft mandate forms" before their submission to the council of the league.

In other words, America does not intend to be left out in the cold, in respect of so essential a world commodity as oil, by finding some of its richest sources of supply handed over in monopolistic terms as spoils of a conflict to the successful issue of which the United States was a contributor."

The note in which Uncle Sam shows those "teeth" was dispatched by Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, to the Earl of Curzon, British foreign secretary, on November 20, and was made public in Washington yesterday. It is a reply to Lord Curzon's note of August 9 and deals with the Anglo-French agreement over Near Eastern questions in general, including Palestine, but in particular with the oil of Mesopotamia.

The British and American governments have been in communication on the same issue more or less incessantly since May.

Secretary Colby's note was framed in council with the oil interests of the United States and may be regarded as representing the view of that great industry.

There is a distinct threat of American reprisals in the attitude promulgated by Secretary Colby. He emphasizes that the reported resources of Mesopotamia are "a potential subject of economic strife." As mandates were devised to insure the open door for all nations, Mesopotamian oil becomes " a peculiarly critical test of the good faith of the nations" which subscribed to the mandate principle. America would not assent to "exclusive control" by any nation or group of nations over natural resources in mandated areas." Secretary Colby broadly hints that there can be no peaceful ordering" of our economic relations with States that violate the doctrine thus laid down. Petroleum is defined as a classic commodity upon which to base a demand for recognition of "the enlightened principle" which the American note espouses. It is growing in commercial importance so fast that the right to "draw upon latent resources in undeveloped regions" for replenishment of the world's supply must remain untrammeled.

In certain respects the Colby note is America's rejoinder to the Anglo-Franco-Italian tripartite agreement covering Turkey. That pact was sealed in secret in August and revealed

COMMON COUNCIL TONIGHT

A special meeting of the common council will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the purpose of acting on a resolution authorizing the city to borrow the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of purchasing a new water set for the city gas plant and also to pay for coal, oil, and meet expenses for the general upkeep of the plant.

Mass Meeting Sunday

F. L. Middleton to Address Gathering Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A.

Hon. Frank L. Middleton, a patent attorney of Washington, will be the speaker at the Y M. C. A. men's meeting at the Richmond Theatre Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. MacFarland, ex-commissioner of Washington, was to have delivered the address but found that he could not come on that date and asked for a deferred date, and Mr. Middleton was substituted.

Mr. N. S. Greenaway, chairman of the religious committee of the "Y" says that the change has in no way affected the excellency of the program, as Mr. Middleton is one of the most popular speakers in the capitol city. He is especially strong as a speaker to church men and bible class men and his subject will be "Recognition of God."

Mr. Middleton is teacher of a large bible class in Washington and also chairman of the executive committee of the Maryland Sunday School Association. In addition to the address of Mr. Middleton the men attending the Sunday afternoon meeting will be especially delighted to hear Mr. Jas. A. MacElwee sing.

Mr. MacElee is a popular singer of Washington, and a very good friend of Mr. Middleton and has consented to accompany him here and sing for the men Sunday afternoon. The tickets for the meeting are now being distributed and can be had from any of the committees of the various bible classes.

Quiet Thanksgiving

Church Services and Family Reunions Mark Observance of Day

Alexandria spent an unusually quiet Thanksgiving. Church services, family reunions, theatre parties and balls marked the observance of the day.

The day throughout was gloomy early in the afternoon there being a light rain. In the evening the attraction was theatre parties and balls.

Hundreds of Alexandrians spent the day out of the city on trips, and there were many automobile parties which left the city early in the day.

Union services were held in Trinity M. E. Church and a sermon appropriate to the observance of the day was delivered by Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church.

The offering was for the Alexandria Hospital and the Anne Lee Memorial Home for the Aged.

Services at the other churches also attracted large congregations. Yesterday was donation day at the Alexandria Hospital and the Anne Lee Memorial Home for the Aged. Both of these institutions were generously remembered.

The ball given by Fitzgerald Asbury, Fourth degree Knights of Columbus in the hall of the Dreadnaught Athletic Club, King and Washington streets, was well patronized. Music was furnished by Hughes' A. E. F. orchestra.

A large crowd also attended the ball given by the Naval Torpedo Station Recreation League. The music was by McWilliams' orchestra of Washington.

BULGARIA MAY CAUSE LEAGUE SPLIT

Roumania, Greece and Servia Formally Protest Her Admission

SECESSION HINTED

Council Sends Request to Wilson to Assume Armenian Duty—Assembly Not in Session

Geneva, Nov. 26.—Serbia, Roumania, and Greece formally notified the Assembly of the League of Nations today that they are opposed to the admission of Bulgaria into the League.

Austria is the only former enemy state which is likely to be admitted to the League without serious opposition. The majority of members of the subcommittee dealing with the applications of Austria, Bulgaria, Albania and Lichtenstein, presided over by Lord Robert Cecil, are said to favor the admission of Bulgaria, but the Roumanians and Jugo-Slavs have declared they will fight against it, asserting that the entrance of Bulgaria into the League now will create a grave complication. This has been interpreted by some of the delegates as a menace that they will quit the League if outvoted.

The council of the League today cabled President Wilson, at the same

Weary of Desertion

B. F. Herrell, 17 Years Old, Who Left Navy Surrenders

"I have had bad luck ever since I deserted," said Beniamin H. Herrell, 17 years old, who deserted from the navy August 6 last.

Herrell came to police headquarters and asked for a night's lodging. The police questioned him regarding his past and he without hesitation told the police he deserted from the battleship North Dakota and was anxious to be returned to the naval authorities and take his medicine.

Since deserting the lad declared he had tried his hand at various obs, once being engaged in coal mining and another time drove a truck.

The young deserter says he hails from Charleston, S. C., and has been in the navy a little more than a year.

This morning the boy was turned over to Capt. William S. Miller at the Naval Torpedo Station.

IN MEMORIAM

MORRISON—In loving remembrance of my dear sister, EMMA L. MORRISON, who departed this life one year ago yesterday, November 25, 1919.

One year has passed with my heart still sore,
As time goes on I miss her more,
No one can fill her vacant place,
Her loving smile, her welcome face
The loss was bitter, the sting severe,
To part with one I loved so dear,
The trial was hard but I'll not complain,
But trust in God to meet again,
Just across on the golden shore
My sister awaits me there.

AFTER MILK DEALERS

Health Officer L. E. Foulks this morning had one of the dairyman, delivering milk within the city, brought before the police court on a charge of selling milk which the laboratory test proved it to contain only two per cent butter-fat. Such milk is little better than water.

Justice Duffey ordered the milk from this dairy excluded from the city, until the proprietor could satisfy the health officer that he could and would deliver a standard grade of milk, which our law requires to be of not less than three and one-fourth per cent butter-fat.

Health Officer Foulks is determined that our city shall be served with clean, pure milk of good quality. This is one of the important functions of the health department, the guarding of our milk supply says the health officer.

Drink Water

The Average Person Fails to Drink the Normal Amount Required by the Human Body

Pure water, like food, is absolutely essential to our life and well being says Dr. Louis Foulks, city health officer. When I say "pure" water, I mean water free from general human or animal pollution, for there really is no such thing as absolutely pure water in nature, that is water from rivers, creeks, springs or wells. Rain water is almost pure, but as soon as it falls upon the earth, it disolves and holds in suspension various earthly salts and chemical substances that are both desirable and necessary to all forms of plant and animal life.

Many years ago in a certain arid section of the West, I came across the body of a man who had died from thirst. His pack contained ample food for many days, but in his lifeless hand was clutched an empty water bottle. You can go without food for a long time, but the lack of water will quickly bring the strongest man to his knees, a helpless, raving maniac.

Tea, coffee or milk do not take the place of plain, natural water, nor do the various other beverages so generally resorted to as thirst-menchers. It is true that these drinks will relieve thirst, but they do not and can not take the palce of clear water.

If water is clean, it is impossible for a person to drink too much, for nature will regulate that. It is, however, that nine out of ten people fail to drink as much as the system daily requires to flush itself and help rid the body of waste material.

Some may tell you it is bad to drink water with your meals. This is all rot. Drink water with your meals, or after or any other time you feel thirsty. When an animal has finished a meal, it takes a hearty drink of water—just plain water—not tea, coffee, or some other beverage like the human animal delights to drench his insides with. It has long been held that animals have no brains. Personally I don't believe this, but if it is so, I am free to say they have much to be thankful for, as they are not afflicted with the many and various ills that the brainy human has brought upon himself by the doing of many things he ought not to do, and neglecting the things he ought to do, with the result there is no health in him.

The point I wish to bring out is that you cannot drink too much water and in all probability you are not drinking enough for your bodily needs. Make it a daily rule to drink a glass of water just before retiring, and another as soon as you get up. And remember no matter how much other stuff you drink during the day, it will not take the place of plain water that your system daily requires. Many cases of constipation and some of the so-called kidney and bladder troubles are promptly relieved by daily drinking plenty of water.

The above advice, while seemingly very simple, is nevertheless of practical value and well worth your consideration.

Miss Love Married

Bride of Capt. Harrison, U. S. A. Former Alexandrian

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Buchanan Love, daughter of Colonel James Monroe Love, general staff U. S. A., and Mrs. Love, and Captain Ray Harrison, field artillery U. S. A. took place at 12:30 yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, in Washington. The ceremony was followed by a small breakfast. Only the relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward L. Buckey, assistant rector of St. Matthews' Church.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white georgette crepe and satin made on simple lines. The skirt, which was short, was made harem fashion and the bodice was embroidered in pearls. A wide sash of satin and tulle which tied at the side and hung to the bottom of the skirt with clusters of orange blossoms, finished the costume. Her veil was of rare old point applique lace, an heirloom in the family and was arranged simply with a frill around the face and hung about a yard on the floor forming the train. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley showered with swansonia.

Miss Harriet Love, sister of the bride, who was her only attendant wore a becoming gown of gold chiffon, fashioned with a harem skirt and untrimmed bodice. A deep satin sash of hydrangea blue was tied at the side with a huge bow. She carried a large bouquet of yellow roses. Ross Harrison, of New York, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Following the breakfast, at which only the guests who attended the ceremony were present, Capt. and Mrs. Harrison left for their wedding trip. They will later go to New Haven, where Capt. Harrison is assistant military instructor at Yale University. Capt. Harrison is the son of the late Col. George Harrison of the United States coast artillery.

The house was decorated for the wedding with quantities of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, while being used in the reception hall with white candles and yellow flowers with yellow candles in the dining room.

BIG VOTE FOR GOOD ROADS MEASURE

Rural Districts Gave Over 21,000 Majority for Constitutional Amendment

SWEEP COUNTIES

Sixty out of 100 Favor Proposition—Big Vote For Measure in Counties a Surprise

Complete figures on the vote for and against the good roads amendment to the Constitution in the election on November 2 show that the amendment carried by the overwhelming majority of 62,357. A total of 160,255 voters passed on the amendment of which 11,306 favored removing the prohibition in the Constitution, while only 48,949 opposed the change in the State's organic law.

In the counties the vote in favor of the amendment was 64,648, with 42,750 against. In other words, sixty out of every 100 voters in rural Virginia who went to the polls on election day voted in favor of the amendment. Of the 100 counties, only nineteen are recorded as having voted against the amendment Augusta Country returned the largest majority against the amendment, the vote there being 969 for and 2,385 against. The result there was expected by advocates of good roads.

In the cities 88 per cent. of the voters who recorded their opinions in the matter voted in favor of the amendment, the vote being 46,883 for and only 6,379 against.

Good roads people here regard as particularly impressive the heavy vote given the amendment in the counties. It had been anticipated that the cities would give substantial majorities for the amendment. It was not expected, however, that such a handsome majority would be given the proposition in the rural sections. The fact that the amendment carried in the counties by a majority of more than 21,000 is regarded here as a pretty clear indication that residents of rural Virginia are as much in favor of good roads and are as willing to vote the funds necessary to build them as are the people living in the cities.

Commissioner Coleman is this week making inspection of State highways in company with Thomas H. MacDonald, Chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Newport News High School Wins by Score of 35 to 0.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 26.—Newport News High School yesterday morning defeated Alexandria by the score of 35 to 0, and will play Roancke for the high school football championship of Virginia at Charlottesville, December 4.

Alexandria was outweighed, outgeneraled and outplayed but fought stubbornly and, while unable to make consistent gains, put up a battle which did the hearts of the 1,000 spectators good.

Coach Webb used four second string men, saving the regulars for the championship contest. Shifts in the line-up in the last period gave the back field more speed, an element which they lacked in the first half.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully; and he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry. But God said unto him, Thou fool! this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

For nineteen centuries the man of this parable has been the type of the materialist. He could contemplate only his great possessions, without a thought of their ultimate use or a consideration of their source.

Their source? Why, his fruits grew out of the ground, and the ground belonged to him. His bursting barns were the result of his enterprise and industry, and their contents were for his own enjoyment. His thoughts were bounded by the soil on one side and his stomach on the other.

It has never been regarded as a lovely or noble type of character. Idealism has afforded inspiration, and man advances only by inspiration, dimly as he may perceive it at the moment. No man is self-made and no man's possessions are for physical enjoyment alone. We have recently seen idealism treated with contumely, but we do not have to read history exhaustively to see the results of materialism. Some of these results on a large scale we have recently witnessed, and are witnessing now. When a man mocks at morality we have the measure of his character, and when a man or a nation mocks at idealism we know his, or its, spiritual dimensions. It is only a small soul that contemplates its possessions without gratitude, and their use with no thought except for itself.

Thanksgiving is a noble feature of all religions. Gratitude is one of the finest elements in individual character. The Pilgrim Fathers fixed a time and place for public and corporate thanksgiving when their circumstances were so unpropitious that they had little to give thanks for except that they were still alive and that an unfertile soil had yielded them food enough for the present. It was one of the fine things that they did. The custom of observing this anniversary has spread from New England over the whole country. It impresses the imagination. It cultivates our idealism. It helps us to see ourselves in the proper perspective. The sense of gratitude to Almighty God should be experienced every day, and the public and ceremonial expression of it on an annual festival reminds us of this fact and cultivates our idealism. We are not the architects of our own fortunes, and what we have obtained or attained is not exclusively for our own enjoyment.

We shall be better men and women if we heartily thank God for all that we are and for all that we have, and if we substantially and practically remember those who have fewer material blessings to give thanks for. Nationally and individually we need to cultivate our reverence for, and our gratitude to, the Ruler of the Universe, and our sense of obligation to our fellow men.

ENJOYABLE OYSTER SUPPER

Alexandria Division No. 134, had its second social night in the Eagles Hall Tuesday night which proved to be a big success in the social line.

The first on program was a nice talk on the good of the order and how quick the B. A. R. E., made payments of claims to the members after final papers were received in the national office by Brother M. B. Thompson, engineer of Alexandria Division No. 134, and who has been a member for some time and has had five claims against the national office which were handled in less than five days after the papers were sent in and check received back by him.

The next on the program was a talk by Brother J. H. West, who has only been a member of the division since the final big drive given the organizers during the month of August. He made a splendid talk in regard to the good things of the B. A. R. E. Brother West is an old timer in the fraternal world, now holding an important office in the Eagles, and a genuine railroader in the capacity of chief clerk to yardmaster of the Southern Railway Company. The next on the program was a talk by Rev. Dr. J. L. Allison, of Second Presbyterian Church, who spoke on the good for mankind the benefits derived from organization of railway men for their protection in the form of insurance, he himself took for his life partner the daughter of an railway employe, and last but not least was the spread table that the B. A. R. E., boys had prepared in the form of another oyster supper and other eats in regular dinner style. Every one left the hall well benefited.

AFTER 12 YEARS DOCTORING CLERGYMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED BY TAKING CHASCO VIN

Rev. C. F. Tiemann, 206 South 3rd St., Steelton, Pa., writes: "For at least twelve years I was troubled with a cough that no Doctor that I consulted could cure. Along with the cough I frequently had chills attended with heart attacks. At times I was scarcely able to walk. This continued until I began taking Chasco-Vin on the recommendation of a druggist friend.

In a short while the cough began to leave me, I could breathe more freely and I am now cured in so far that whenever I feel my old trouble coming back I begin again on Chasco-Vin, and am soon relieved.

I have recommended this medicine to many others with equally good results, so you can do with my recommendation what you please. Chasco-Vin is a good medicine for me and has restored me to health."

The Alexandria agent for Chasco-Vin is Edgar Warfield, jr., King and Pitt Streets, call and inquire further about it.

Model Greets Artist With Eggs And Cabbage

New York, Nov. 26.—The generally placid brow of Greenwich Village showed deep furrows today when Florence West, fair and 20, and a professional model, laid down an egg-and-cabbage barrage upon the unsuspecting dome of Carl Gruppe.

Gruppe, who is struggling to make the world safe for art, angrily oozing badly scrambled eggs and embryonic cold slaw, seized the first thing he could get his hands on. Although he could not see through the yolks that curtained down over his languid artistic eyes, his trusty right hand told him that something heavy rested therein. He hurled the object toward the giggling model. The something was three gallons of cold and decidedly liquid dishwater. His aim was true and Miss Wood was not overdressed, having just been posing as Psyche at the Washtub.

Shivering a shimmy that would never be condoned on any stage, the beautiful art model rushed forth from the battleground and made a straight run as fast as her quivering limbs could carry her right smack into Jefferson Market Court.

Judge Schwab gasped and shielded at the human custard and fair, but ate delivery on any type of Ford cars damp model, he said:

"Go back where you belong and cease firing."

for the first time only a few weeks ago. The Secretary of State recalls that the United States has "consistently urged" the principle that territory transferred in consequence of the defeat of the central powers must not become the commercial "spheres" and administered so as to assure equality of any nation or group, but "held treatment" for all the world. Had that not been our clear understanding, Secretary Colby explains, the United States would never have assented to the mandate system.

Not the least caustic sting in the American note is in its tail. The British note of August 9 sought to justify British oil policy in the Near East by contrasting the present production of petroleum in the United States with that of Great Britain. Lord Curzon also made some observations anent "American supremacy" in the petroleum industry. Secretary Colby almost curtly resents those allusions. He reminds the British Foreign Minister that America's idealistic views on mandates are not dictated by materialistic considerations such as the supply of oil for any other commodity. Before offering Lord Curzon "assurances of my distinguished consideration," Secretary Colby takes a farewell fling at a "misapprehension" under which he says the British government is laboring.

He points out that not only does the United States possess only about one-twelfth of the petroleum resources of the world, but that America is subjected to heavier drafts for foreign supply than any other oil-producing country. As the demand for petroleum is outrunning the supply, America insists that "opportunity to explore and develop the petroleum resources of the world, wherever found, should without discrimination be freely extended."

Although oil is the burden of Secretary Colby's note, he stresses in the final passage of his note that it is higher things that the United States is concerned about. Those range around the unalterable principle that mandates acquired by "joint struggle and common victory" must be administered for the joint and common good.

Mr. Colby's shaft at Great Britain's "misapprehension" as to the extent of America's oil resources may be hinted at a statement made publicly by Sir Auckland Geddes shortly after his arrival in this country. The British Ambassador, addressing the Pilgrims of the United States in New York on May 25, last, declared that "in all you control at least eighty-two per cent of the oil supply of the world." The American note now asserts that we control approximately only eight and one-third per cent. It may be that Sir Auckland got his decimal points mixed.

Choose Bread for its Nutritive Quality

Then you will choose Corby Bread because it is 100 per cent Nutritious as well as 100 Per Cent pure.

The difference between Corby Bread--and other bread is one of nutrition. Without the Corby patent dough-mixing machines it isn't possible to develop ALL the gluten content of the flour--and as far short as you fall in that--so deficient will be the bread in maximum food value.

Science designed this machinery--really a discovery of ours--and a most important one--through our persistent endeavor to produce better bread.

Every slice of Corby Bread is a strength builder--a real nourishment.

Corby Bread is made right here in Alexandria—and delivered fresh from our ovens to your grocer or deli catessen.

Pure as Mother Made It.

Louisville Defaulter Is Captured in Texas

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 26.—Dispatches received here last night state that George L. Martin, who is charged with having looted the Gorman Building Association in Louisville of $260,000, and who disappeared in January, 1918, was captured this afternoon at Dallas, Texas, where it is stated, he was in the real estate business under an assumed name. It is expected he will be brought back to Louisville at once.

Martin's embezzlement furnished one of the most sensational chapters in the history of Kentucky peculations. Born poor, he had been practically reared by the head of the building association whose funds he stole. After Martin had fled and his stealings had become known this man said he had made his will in favor of Martin and that at the time Martin was doing the most stealing he had determined to retire from business and put Martin at the head of the company. Martin had been sought in every State in the Union.

It is alleged that Martin sold the same property more than once in various cases; that he duplicated deeds and collected large sums that never were accounted for on the books.

Martin was known as a "high roller," spent money like water and is reported to have lost much of the money in gambling.

SIR EDWARD CARSON AGREES TO ACCEPT HOME RULE

London, Nov. 26.—The opening of the debate on the Irish home rule bill in the House of Lords yesterday afforded a notable contrast to the apathy displayed when the measure was under consideration in the house of commons. The upper house was crowded, and many of the members of the house of commons, including Premier Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law and Sir Edward Carson, listened to Lord Birkenhead's speech introducing the bill. Many peers were in the galleries.

FAMILY PET CAT CHOKES OUT LIFE OF BABE IN CRIB

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 26.—Tabbie, the family's pet cat, is held responsible for the death yesterday of the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Koether.

Mrs. Koether found the 7 months' old child cold in her crib with the cat coiled on her chest. James S. Billingslea, who was called, attributed death to suffocation caused by the pressure of the cat's weight against the lungs.

Mrs. Koether had placed the child on the front porch that it might benefit by fresh air and sunshine.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Prewar prices for live hogs became general today throughout the United States. CONFIRMS VANDERLIP DEAL

Tokyo, Nov. 26.—A semiofficial dispatch states that the Isevtia, of Moscow, confirms that Washington, D. Vanderlip has arranged for concessions in Kamchatka. The newspaper is reported as saying that American capitalists are negotiating with the Russian soviet government through the Handes Company, of Norway, for exports to Russia valued at 130,000,000 francs.

Anton Bernick, of St. Paul, Minn., who says he now eats better, sleeps better and works better, as a result of taking Tanac. Says all his friends are talking about his improvement.

"There must be something wonderful about Tanlac for it has made me feel better, eat better, sleep better and work better," said Anton Bernick, of 136 East Congress Street St. Paul, Minn., a well-known employee of Swift & Company.

"Tanlac has helped me so much that all my friends are stopping me on the street and asking me what it is that is making me look so well and of course I am always glad to tell them it is Tanlac. I hadn't been down sick in bed exactly, but I hadn't felt just right for a long time. I was all run down, had indigestion, my appetite was poor and nothing agreed with me. In fact, I had to force down every mouthful I would eat and I would always suffer from indigestion for an hour or so after every meal I also had headaches and would get so dizzy at time I could hardly keep from falling. I simply had no ambition or energy to do anything.

"Just as I have already said, Tanlac has made a brand-new man of me and I am feeling fine now in every way. Of course I will always recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria bp Edgar Warfield, jr., and Gibson's Drug Store.

The Destroyer Athletis Club played the Culpeper town team, at that place yesterday and won by a score of 19 to 6, although the opposing team outweighed the local boys by easily sixty pounds to a man.

All persons desiring a tryout for the basketball team which is being placed in the field by the Gibraltar Athletic Club, 605 King street, at 8 p. m., Wednesday, December 1st, 1920.

Alexandria's Turkey Day football program, with the fast going Dreadnaughts and Sixth Machine Gun Battallion, of Quantico, Va., staging the feature attraction at Baggetts Field, resulted in an easy victory for the locals, score 54 to 0, the "D's" regulars rolling up 42 points in thirty minutes of play, then retiring in favor of their capable teammates, who in 20 minutes put across two more touchdowns, the last two quarters being shortened by five minutes each.

West, Hasson, Wenzel and Hayden scored touch downs, with Wobby Haines trusty toe booted across seven straight goals from touchdowns, while the whole line carried a full sized punch and worked in great style. Carl Dreifus played the final quarter and showed no ill effects of his injured leg, which will materially increase the big "D" lads chances in the remaining games on schedule for "Lightin Ike" comes through the locals will be sitting on the world as far as backfield material is concerned, Coach Billy Crouch's present combination of the four first named tracks ranking with the best of the independents in this section. Les Swan with a sprained neck, "Doggy" Hamilton, with a badly dislocated houlder, and Tanny Trigger, who is uffering from the effect of losing everal teeth are out of it for Saturday's big game at Richmond, with he John Marshall A. C.

Final football practice will be held at the Armory at 6.15 o'clock this evening. Team will leave Saturday morning at 9:47 for the Virginia Capital, and are hoping for many rooters as possible to make the trip and encourage them toward victory.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THAT CHILD?

When Children Grow Pale and Listless Their Blood May be Weak

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood

Sold by Druggists in Liquid and Tablet Form—Both the Same In Medicinal Quality

When your child loses color, acts and talks without spirit, and does not play like other children, act quickly.

If the condition is not a deep-seated disease but merely due to poor blood, give Pepto-Mangan, Gude's Pepto-Mangan is just the tonic for pale, thin children whose blood needs rebuilding. It is a pleasant-tasting, simple combination of exactly the ingredients that increase and enrich the blood.

Beneficial results show almost at once in brighter eyes, blooming cheeks, a springtly step, and the whole system made more vigirous.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is 'Gude's". Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan. —Adv.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 26.—Carrying through a clean slate for the season, the Virginia Military Institute "Flying Cadets" defeated their old rivals, the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, here yesterday by a score of 24 to 7, in a contest in which the Lexington cadets made costly fumbles, and failed many times to effect the play for which they have been noted this year namely, the forward pass.

It was through a fumble on V. M. I's. ten yard line in the first five minutes of play that Tilson, for the Blacksburg cadets, made their only touchdown. Wallace kicked goal.

In the second period, following up three successful end runs, Summers scored the first tally for V. M. I., advancing 15 yards. Stuart, the doughty little Lexington quarter, carried the ball over in the third and fourth periods for two additional tallies. Leech kicked goal for each touchdown. In the middle of the fourth quarter Capt. Leech raised the score three points with a beautiful field goal from the 35 yard line.

TUBERCULOSIS LEAVES 200,000 ORPHANS ANNUALLY

Richmond, Va., Nov. 26.—A motherless or fatherless child is an object of sympathetic consideration always. Purses, as well as hearts are equally open to an appeal for the orphan whether at home or in war swept Europe, but do plans for preventing orphans command anything like as ready response? It would seem not. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease and yet over 200,000 children in the United States are left orphans every year an account of tuberculosis, according to figures recently published by the National Tuberculosis Association.

MRS. MACSWINEY SAILS TO ATTEND HEARINGS HERE

Queenstown, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, of Cork, and Mary MacSwiney, his sister, who are journeying to the United States, to testify before the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question, embarked quietly on the steamer Celtic yesterday. Few people were aware that they were sailing.

They were accompanied on the tender which took them to the Celtic by Mrs. MacSwiney's brother-in-law and Mrs. MacCurtain, widow of Lord Mayor MacCurtain, of Cork, Mayor MacSwipey's predecessor, who was murdered in March last.

CAUSE LEAGUE SPLIT BULGARIA MAY

time messages of the same purport were sent to the various powers, asking whether he will accept the role of mediator between Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, and the Armenians.

The text of the message to President Wilson follows:

"The Assembly of the League of Nations passed on November 22 a resolution couched in the following terms:

The Assembly, anxious to co-operate with the Council in order to put an end within the shortest time possible to the horrors of the Armenian tragedy, has requested the Council to arrive at an understanding with the governments with the view of entrusting a power with the task of taking necessary measures to stop hostilities between the Kemalists and the Armenians.

"The Council of the League has, after consideration, decided to transmit this resolution to the governments of all states members of the League and also to the Government of the United States. The object is to find a power which will use its good offices to put an end as speedily as possible to the present terrible tragedy.

"The proposal does not involve a repetition of the invitation to accept a mandate for Armenia. The Council does not wish to suggest an assumption of duties which might be unwelcomed, but has felt bound to offer to the United States the opportunity of undertaking this humanitarian task since the fate of Armenia always has been of special interest to the American people and the President of the United States has already agreed to delimit the boundaries of that country.

As the matter is of great urgency the Council ventures to ask for a reply with the shortest possible delay."

The message is signed by Paul Hymans, president of the Council of the League of Nations.

No meeting of the Assembly was held today in order to give the members full time for committee work and it is possible there will be no session tomorrow. While some of the committees are reported to be progressing with unexpected speed, their prompt decisions are thus far mostly for sure and slow solutions.

After the membership committee had decided to make all the new Russia states wait for admission, and the amendment and disarmament committees had expressed themselves in favor of delay the committee on finances and economics decided it would not act at present on the suggestion of the Brussels Financial Conference that a committee of financiers be chosen to lay plans for an international credit institution.

If the Assembly approves the committee's decision, another international financial conference will be held next year before anything is done on the suggestions made at the Brussels conference. This is understood to be the plan advocated by the British.
